LEISURE & HEALTH RPL

CHC43415 · SYDNEY

Certificate IV in Leisure and Health RPL

Recognition of Prior Learning for leisure and health workers.

UNITS	ELIGIBILITY ASSESSMENT	RPL FEE	OUTCOME
17 units	$250	$200 per unit	Recognised
10 core + 7 elective	Separate, not credited	Standard RPL fee $3,400	Same national qualification

Am I eligible?

- Work experience
  At least 12 months' relevant lifestyle, recreation or diversional therapy experience gained within the past five years (preferred).
- Leisure needs
  Assessing individual leisure and recreational needs.
- Programming
  Planning, delivering and evaluating individual and group activities.
- Inclusion and wellbeing
  Supporting social inclusion, wellbeing and participation.
- Evidence
  Current CV, employer references, de-identified activity programs and program evaluations that show recent practice.

Relevant and recent experience. Experience means relevant work supported by recent practice, not total time in the industry. Older experience may contribute, but extra evidence or assessment may be needed to show current competence.

Who can apply?

Anyone with skills and knowledge relevant to this qualification, developed through work, previous study, training or other experience — for example:

- ✓ Lifestyle coordinators
- ✓ Recreational activity officers
- ✓ Diversional therapy assistants

Roles are examples. Suitability depends on how your skills, knowledge and evidence relate to the units, not your job title alone.

Preliminary screening only. Meeting these criteria does not guarantee RPL approval: you must meet any mandatory entry requirements and demonstrate competency against each unit.
